Three Wells Providing 18,000 Barrels Daily
UNPROMISING LAND OPENED
Open New Field, Huntington Beach, Near Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—One of the most important oil discoveries in the history of the state was reported by the Standard Oil company today in its monthly bulletin. Standard Oil reports, just off the press, an account of the discovery says that three oil wells with a total initial daily production of 18,000 barrels have been brought in on the company's holdings in the Elk Hills district near Taft, Cal.

The land on which the wells were tapped was said by the company not to be the best in the district, but promising. On February 12 of this year the first well, known as Twp. 10, was brought in at a depth of 2,500 feet and is now producing 6,000 barrels daily. On the same property, July 22, a well known as number 2 came in with an initial production of 4,000 barrels, which has increased to 6,500 barrels. A third well, adjacent to number 1, was brought in on August 25 with an initial production of 5,500 barrels.

The possibilities of a new and valuable field are seen by the company in the discovery of a well at Huntington Beach, southeast of Los Angeles, which has reached a production of 100 barrels daily.

Hughes' counsel, according to the appellate court, began with the fact that Hughes, who was a wealthy man, died in 1910, and she was to receive a large sum of money. The court, however, found that Hughes was not a wealthy man at the time of his death, and she was to receive a large sum of money.

FAIL TO OBTAIN JURY IN TRIAL OF WOMAN SLAYER

Mrs. Reifenstein Verges on Collapse at Time of Adjournment Expect First Evidence to Be Submitted This Morning

After the first day of the trial which will decide her fate or punishment for the alleged murder of Charles Stammer, her lover, while he lay sleeping in his room at the Hotel Stowell, Mrs. Verges, the frail and delicate defendant, was on the borderland of a collapse.

When the news of her condition was transmitted to Judge H. Z. Austin, who is presiding, he ordered a busy closing of the proceedings and a moment later Mrs. Reifenstein was taken back to her room in the Hotel Stowell, where she is being watched by her mother, Mrs. E. E. Gustafson of Patterson and the jail matron.

Although the jury box was filled when adjournment was taken, every witness was sworn in to the trial. The session closed with each challenge exercised by the defense and but one for the prosecution. The attorneys last night said the task of convincing the jury would not be more than half this morning's session.

The men in the box at the moment of adjournment were: Samuel D. Hooper, Henry Ladd James, J. R. Henry, J. R. Stettin and Guy B. Van Meter of Fresno; D. E. Ryman, C. E. Gilliland, Fred Gilbert and Fred Hansen of Redwood; L. E. Elfers of Santa; F. A. Draper of Kingsburg; and W. A. Barr of Sanger. More than half the venire of eighty had been used.

Significant in the examination of the testimony by the district attorney was his declaration to challenge those who expressed prejudice against capital punishment. The chief effort of the prosecution was to deter those who expressed the opinion that capital punishment was a waste of money. The defense, on the other hand, challenged those who expressed prejudice against capital punishment. Several members of the panel declared they thought "the insanity plea was overworked," as one expressed it, but a majority indicated they had no prejudice in the matter.

The defense, it was indicated, will be that of temporary insanity at the time of the shooting and that the slayer was mentally not responsible for her act. The defense claims the crime followed her insistence that Stammer make provision for support and the care of herself and her expectant child.

The prosecution of the case is being handled by District Attorney C. E. Beaumont and Deputy District Attorney Ray W. Hays, while Attorney Strother P. Walton and Arthur Allen represent the defense.

TWELVE DEAD KLAMATH FALLS

Four Still Missing After Five; to Probe Conflagration

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 7.—The known death list in the fire which destroyed the Hoston Hotel here early Monday reached 12 today, with four other persons missing and thought to have lost their lives. The known death list was increased to twelve with the discovery today of two bodies in the ruins of the Hendrick Apartments, which was also consumed in the fire.

Word was received here today from Salem that the state fire marshal's office would investigate the conflagration at once.

CURTIS CHRISTY, Texas, Sept. 7.—An international labor bureau probably will be functioning soon at Laredo, Texas, to supply Mexican labor for American farmers and ranchers, according to Randolph Robertson, American consul at Nuevo Laredo, who is here today.

WHY WETS SHOULD VOTE DRY

The Sacramento Bee seeks to meet the Republican argument that even the wets should vote for the Harris enforcement law now, because in the event of Congress changing the Volstead act, it would be equally easy for California then to amend the Harris act to correspond, if its people so desired. Suppose, the Bee argues, Congress should relax the Volstead act next summer, after our legislature has adjourned. Then we should have to wait two years for a new legislature to make the relaxations here. And we might not get them, even then, because the dries would be constantly busy, to elect a dry legislature and a dry governor.

Piffle! In the first place, the next Congress is not going to amend the Volstead act. If every wet candidate now running were to be elected (and obviously not all of them can be) Congress would still be overwhelmingly bone dry. That postpones any possible action by Congress until at least 1933, or after, not this legislature, but the following one. Actually there is of course no likelihood that even the following Congress will be wet, but as to the coming Congress it is beyond even hypothetical dispute. The nominations are all made and the result is already settled. Nothing could elect a wet Congress two years from now except a tremendous nation-wide campaign, and even that would have to be a campaign to look like a miracle. All such a campaign were to succeed, the result would be known long before the California legislature assembled, and that legislature could, if it wished, then amend the Harris law, providing that whenever the Volstead law should be relaxed, a similar latitude should apply in the Harris law.

It is replied that the dries would elect a legislature which would refuse to do this, the answer is that this is only true because the people of California want that sort of a legislature. Moreover the people, by initiative, could pass a similar amendment, regardless of the machinations of the wicked dries. A state has the right to be more dry than the nation. California, by vote, could and probably would, so decide, but only because that is the people's will. But no state has the right to be less dry than the nation. That is what the Bee is trying to accomplish. If California wants to grow damp, part pass with the nation, the machinery is open to do so. And, to meet that hypothetical emergency if it should occur, it is not at all necessary to deprive California of its necessary law-enforcing machinery now.

And finally, there is no possibility of Congress, either in 1933 or ever, making enough relaxation in the Volstead act to amount to anything. It can not, under the constitution. An arbitrary limit of one per cent, instead of one-half per cent, might indeed be constitutional. But who cares for a change so slight as that? Any change big enough for any one to care for would be unconstitutional. Even very weak beer, with a "kick," but with so little of it that few drinkers would get actually drunk on it, would be objected to, not for the little harm it would do itself, but because it would bring back the saloon. Any beer beyond that, or any wine at all, would be thrown out by the Supreme Court, under its decision already announced.

So the thing to do is to pass the law now, to enforce the law now, as it is now. An amendment relaxing it now would be unconstitutional. It can not be relaxed at all for at least three years. It will probably not be relaxed even then. It can never be relaxed enough to amount to anything. And if even the insignificant relaxation which Congress might theoretically make constitutional were ever to be practically possible, we could make that change then, if we wished.

TWO BOLSHEVIK RECRUITS

We are glad to greet two new and unexpected recruits to the ranks of Bolshevism. The San Francisco Chronicle enthusiastically commends Leslie M. Shaw, the most reactionary stand-patter still alive, for saying that "some work is easier than other work, but those who deserve most and should get most are those who work hardest and on the most disagreeable work."

This is exactly what the Soviets are doing in Russia. Cleaning sewers is very hard and very disagreeable work. Ordering others to do what we are too lazy or too fastidious to do ourselves is easy and for most of us very pleasant work. So, under the Soviet regime the sewer-cleaner gets first-class rations and many rubles; the foreman of the gang gets second-class rations and few rubles, and the landed proprietor or factory owner gets nothing to eat and no rubles. It is all in accord with the Chronicle's doctrine, and Mr. Shaw. Whether it succeeds in getting the sewers cleaned may be doubtful. But it certainly succeeds in its major purpose of starving the aristocrats. No doubt the Chronicle and the former Secretary of the Treasury, now chief reactionary for the Better America Association, will agree with Lenin and Trotsky that this is the chief end of man.

THE FIGHT FOR COMMAND

"We are not fighting unions," said the Mobile shipyard owners, when they threw the unions out, "but union domination."

Of course! That is the stake in all these "open shop" fights. It is a question, not of money, or of liberty, but of domination. Ostensibly the employers are fighting for the theoretical liberty of the occasional non-conformist worker to stay out of the union of his fellows. Actually they care nothing for that liberty. It is the sort of a right which they do not respect where their own class is concerned. And it is a right of persons for whose other rights they make not the slightest effort. It is not even for the right to get men cheap that they are fighting. That was the case once, and may be still in some instances, like the twelve-hour unskilled laborers of the Steel trust. But generally the non-union employers boast that they pay at least the union wage. And very often, to keep a shop from unionizing they will pay far more than the cost of allowing it to be unionized. The Fresno street car company, for instance, paid a great deal more to "win" the strike than it would have cost to lose it. And when they won, all that they won was the privilege of hiring inexperienced men, who wore out their cars and were generally expensive, for the same wages at which they could easily have retained the experienced men. This is a common instance.

What the anti-unionists are fighting for is not liberty, or money, but "control"—for their right to require the obedience of other men to their commands. The Lord so made the world that some men were entitled to command and the rest to obey. They regard themselves as in the commanding class. And their chief objection to the unions is that the union representatives have the impudence to command them. That is something no man of spirit will stand. "The idea of their giving us orders what we shall do!" It is humiliating. And humiliation is a thing we were born to impose on others, but those others must not impose it on us. As a man accustomed to dealing with Oriental coolies said after his first experience with American workmen: "Why, when I tell them 'Damn you, do as I say!'—what do you suppose they do? They damn me!" And that will never do. We will fight for the right to damn others. But nobody shall damn us.

SELECTION DOWNWARD

An Inter-Racial Council survey of recent immigrants has disclosed that there are very few unskilled laborers among them. This is exultant. To be sure, it indicates that the immigrants who are coming are superior persons, who will make better American citizens. But that is not what most of us want. We are looking not for better men, but for more useful servants. We value them for the things they can do for us. If we are skilled workers ourselves, we do not want more skilled men coming, because we mistakenly think that the more workers there are the less there will be for each. If we are employers we are looking for cheap men to do the sort of work that anybody can do. So the cheaper, the better.

That means, if we have anything to do with it, that the selection shall be downward. We prefer that the population of America be recruited from the least admirable of other peoples. Still better, of course, would be capable peoples who are content to remain in an inferior position. The Chinese are that. They have as much intelligence as anybody, and more diligence, but they are willing to use those high qualities on inferior jobs, for low pay. That means we can get a lot out of them and give very little in return. Which is the ideal position that we wish the other fellow to occupy. Another advantage of the Chinese is that they are willing to live in stables, like other mules, and that, also like mules, they have no families. They are the ideal immigrants. But, if we can not get them, then the next choice is the worst of Europe. Anything so it is cheap! And "it" is the souls and bodies of men. But the superior persons, the skilled, the intelligent and the ambitious, who are coming—what do we want of them? We prefer to hold the monopoly of these things ourselves, and to use them to get as much as possible out of the labor of others, and to give them as little as possible in return.

"NOTHING BUT A REPUBLICAN"

"Shortridge is nothing but a Republican." Chronicle.

Thanks! We had supposed that he was also a good lawyer, a skilled if somewhat flamboyant orator, and a pleasant if somewhat pompous gentleman. But the Chronicle's definition is official. It is the official organ. Therefore we must accept it. It has the advantage of brevity and definiteness. The Republican nominee for the Senate is "nothing but a Republican." He should be entitled to the support of all citizens who are "nothing but Republicans."

Because of the increased cost of living throughout the world, the Mexican government has decided to raise the salaries of its diplomatic representatives abroad 50 per cent. This increase will affect both legation and consular employees.

Heretofore diplomatic appointments will be signed by officials of the foreign office instead of by the president, as heretofore. Now appointments will be required to be signed by the president, within 28 days of the date of the appointment. This latter reform has been introduced, it is said, because in the past many diplomats have shown a tendency to linger at home while they were drawing full pay.

THE NEW AMBITION

Since Tommy read that Ruth was educated, in a school where boys are sent when they are bad, he no longer looks on college.

As a place to gather knowledge, and he's lost his high ambitions that he had. Once he hoped to wear the laurels of the learned. Perched upon his little freckled forehead brow, and to gain a proud position. With his stock of erudition, but he's working with a different purpose now.

He has borrowed little Johnny Smith's air gun, and has broken half the windows on the street; With an utter lack of feeling. He has dropped banana peeling. Where it led astray a passing copper's feet. He has cast adrift the brakes on automobiles, and has laughed to see them coasting down the hill; With molasses he's made messes. Of the blonde and curly tresses. That adorned his little baby sister Jill.

He's been reasoned with an scolded, even paddled. But it never seems to do a bit of good. When by chance his folks detect him. In misdeed and correct him. He declares he'd not be better if he could. For his youthful thoughts are eternally dwelling. On the Home-Run Wonder's soul enthralling story. And with law-defying daring. Little Tommy is preparing. For admission to the same reformatory!

ONE THING TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

Anyway thanks to Mr. Ruth there is no home run shortage this year.

NEEDS TWO DEALERS TO BUY PRESIDENCY

Editor Republican:—The course recent events have taken compelled me to think to think thoughtfully and seriously. I am an American citizen—by naturalization, and by choice. I see through the press that Governor Cox, an American citizen, by birth, a Democrat, has been nominated by that party for the presidency of the United States. I also read in the newspapers that Candidate Cox claims that the senate oligarchy have conspired among themselves and have nominated one of the senate oligarchy conspirators, namely, Senator Harding, for the presidency by the Republican party, and that now this senate oligarchy are raising a stock fund of $15,000,000 (fifteen million dollars) with which he says they have conspired to "buy" the presidency of the United States. Now to buy and sell there must be two parties, one to do the purchasing and the other to do the selling. So the question presents itself to me "Who is it that has and can sell the presidency of the United States?" After careful and studious thought, I came to the conclusion that the only body who can or has the power to sell the presidency of the United States is the electorate of the United States. Now that the women have the vote, it means the electorate of the United States is about 30,000,000 voters, and Governor Cox undoubtedly means to infer that the senate oligarchy conspirators are to represent these 30,000,000 citizens of the United States with 50 cents or $1 each for their votes. Do I understand this to be correct, as I am in doubt as to what he means by "buying" the presidency, is the reason I am writing to you in hopes that you will clarify it, if possible, in other words, if I cast my vote for Senator Harding, I will be looked upon with suspicion that I am one of the voters who "sold out." If these statements in the press are true, then I am afraid Governor Cox has a very poor conception of the electorate of the United States, and has by his remarks not only insulted the citizens of the United States, but he has branded them with dishonesty and dishonor and without any vestige of

A Living Trust—By Instalments

Every man who is well informed conceals the wisdom of establishing a Living Trust for himself, his wife or a relative for whom he wishes to provide.

But most men are deterred, because they cannot take out of their business or set apart from their private fortunes AT ONE TIME enough to accomplish this.

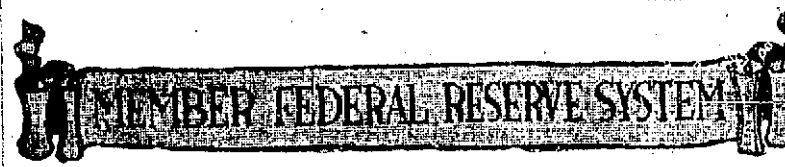

The "Bank of Italy Trust Plan" has awakened a new interest in Living Trusts because it confers the advantages of this method on men of ordinary income. It enables such men to accumulate a safely invested fortune and put it on a growing basis.

Our time is at the disposal of any who wish to inquire into the advantages of this Plan. Be sure and talk it over with us; also, read our booklet, the "Bank of Italy Trust Plan" for creating and enlarging an independent estate.

The principals of Edison, Longfellow and Washington, W. J. Farris, W. E. Munson and E. M. Lane will be at their buildings Friday from 10 to 4 o'clock to register all freshmen II's. Over 300 9th grade students are expected.

The dark blue taffeta frock at the left lends both youthful and slender lines to the figure and is charmingly trimmed with self-material in tiny scallops. Into the open front is set a vest of white organdy and separate collar and cuffs of the same crisp material may be added, if desired. Unusual is the string belt in diam. velvet ribbon. Medium size requires 5 yards 36-inch material.

Small patterned voile in blue and tan makes the second model, which has the plain belt cut in one with the front of the waist. Round neck and short sleeves are edged with lace through which velvet ribbon is run and tied in perky bows at points of vantage. Medium size requires 5 yards 36-inch material with 1 1/2 yards lace and 2 yards ribbon.

MUSIC GALORE AS ATTRACTION FOR FAIR WEEK

Two Bands to Render Daily Concerts at Grounds

Poultry and Pet Stock
Premium List Out
This Week

The atmosphere of music is going to pervade the county fair grounds as never before on the occasion of the Fresno district fair which opens on September 27, according to arrangements made by the management and announced yesterday. While heretofore music at the fair has consisted in the playing of a band each day, this year's fair will have two bands playing daily in addition to a raving trio which will sing popular songs on the grounds.

Leonard's band of Fresno will play each day at the county fair grounds. It was announced yesterday at fair headquarters, while in addition a band from some valley city will play each day. Bands already engaged by the fair management are Leonard's High School, Cadet, Redkey and Reina, while others will be secured to harmonize throughout the six days of the fair. Saenger and Kingsburg organizations will in all probability be signed for concerts, in addition to the other already signed.

With two bands playing daily, concerts will be held at the grandstand and also in the grounds instead of only at the grandstand as has been the case heretofore, while the trio will be heard at various places on the grounds.

Big Poultry Show

W. E. Edwards, who is in charge of the poultry and pet stock show for the fair, has already had two meetings with the poultry fanciers of the district regarding the conduct of the department this year and the premium lists, which will be issued the latter part of this week, will be made. Edwards stated that the exhibitors themselves. Half of the show pens for the department have already been sold and it is expected that there will be a large showing of feathered fowls and pet stock as usual.

One of the sensational events which has been arranged as an attraction at the fair will be the leap for life which will be staged each afternoon and night during fair week, starting at the top of an eighty-foot incline, the rider of a bicycle starts downward. He continues to the twenty-foot level, where there is a sudden incline upward, throwing the rider and machine through the air, evolutions of the loop, the loop, throwing his bicycle, the rider dives into a tank of water. While the loop, the loop and dive is sensational, from the spectators' standpoint, it is water then, the rider and machine through the air, evolutions of the loop, the loop, throwing his bicycle, the rider dives into a tank of water. While the loop, the loop and dive is sensational, from the spectators' standpoint, it is water then, the rider and machine through the air, evolutions of the loop, the loop, throwing his bicycle, the rider dives into a tank of water.

PEACH GROWERS BOARD TO MEET

Amend By-Laws First Session, Increase Stock at Second

Stockholders of the California Peach Growers will meet Monday, September 13, to amend the association by-laws so as to increase the number of directors to meet conditions of the market of the peach and fig interests. This information was given out yesterday by J. F. Niswander, vice president and manager of the association. At the meeting of the association directors yesterday, in their regular monthly session, a resolution was adopted calling for a meeting of the stockholders on September 13 to authorize an increase in the capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

In connection with the plans for the merger of fig interests with the peach association, Niswander said that only $6,000 of stock is still available to fig growers. He said that the merger of the two associations is being completed. From the interest that has been shown in the organization plans for the benefit of the growers, it is not thought that this $6,000 will remain available for more than a very short time.

FOR SALE AT ARVIN Kern County, California

About eighty (80) acres, thirty acres in Thompson Seedless Grapes and forty-two acres in Pines, Cotton, balance alfalfa and family orchard.

This is one of the best equipped propositions in the San Joaquin Valley. The land is the famous "WEED PATCH" Silt Loam, unimproved depth. The land lays just light for irrigation—2 ft. ditch in half mile. Twelve-inch well 535 ft. deep, 45 ft. to water, electric pumping plant; reservoir 235 ft. square. It is the best cement piped ranch in the valley, about three miles of pipe. Lateral pipes every 335 ft., and pipes at every trap, making the labor of irrigation a snap. Everything arranged to cut down labor.

The thirty-acre vineyard is over four—THOMPSON SEEDLESS—large and luscious, the equal of general run of three and four year old vines. We are about two weeks earlier than most vines in the valley, making it ideal for a green fruit proposition. Our grapes were reported to be the first to be shipped east out of the entire San Joaquin Valley this year. We have surely the finest grape soil to be found anywhere.

There is forty-two acres of very fine stand of PINE, COTTONWOOD, which we estimate conservatively will run 25,000 to 30,000 ft. bales to the acre. If the price is the same as last year, there should be close to $15,000.00 crop. There is about three acres of fine stand of three-year-old alfalfa, producing more than enough for stock on place; fine family orchard and abundance of shade. Two California houses of four and three rooms each; very large galvanized iron barn, place fenced and located on protected paved road. This place is a money maker, and if the owner could give it personal attention, it would not be for sale.

Price $500.00 per acre, half cash and balance 7 per cent. If sold immediately, will include one-third interest in the present cotton crop, which is delivered before the crop. My son will be on the place and his address is N. J. Brooks, Arvin, Cal. If notified, he will meet anyone interested at Railroad Station, Arvin, California. No exchange considered. —No agents.

FRESNO WINS SWINE PRIZES

Big Clean-Up Made By Poland-China Owners at State Fair

Fresno made a big clean-up in the Poland-China class at the State Fair in Sacramento in the strongest swine show ever staged on the coast. Represented in the show were the following breeders from Fresno county: Charles Gatewood, Charles Stephens, Richard & Son, Fred Gatewood, H. A. Johnson and Casar & Son.

Navy Hog, owned by Fred Gatewood and Charles Stephens, won first prize as senior boar pig, first prize in the future class, junior champion, and reserve grand champion. This animal is a son of Fresno's 102, the junior champion at the Fresno fair last year. It weighs 250 pounds at one year of age. Giant Prospect, owned by Charles Gatewood of Fresno, won second prize as junior boar pig. Buckland & Son exhibited El Capitán and won third prize in the same class. Thus it will be seen Fresno county won the first three places, which is a very creditable showing. Poland Dale Hog, owned by Charles Gatewood, won first prize in the junior yearling sows, in class of twenty-two. Golden West King won first prize in the junior yearling future class.

Y.W.C.A. Still Wants More Rooms for Girls

Miss Maude Wolff, general secretary of the local Young Women's Christian Association, stated yesterday that there had been a good response to the recent appeal for rooms and that the association is extremely grateful to the public for their assistance.

More rooms are needed for the girls coming to this city for school and work, and any with rooms to rent are urged to list them at the Y. W. C. A. It is preferable that registrations of rooms and for rooms be made in writing.

The Y. W. C. A. is now handling employment work and those without work are invited to call at the Y. W. and the secretaries may be able to place them through the bureau.

FOSTER, McKEEN SUPERVISORS FIX BASE RATE OF $1.60 FOR COUNTY TAXES

Close Vote in Both Primaries Shown By Official Tabulations

Court House Rumors Say Contests May Be Filed

Although contests in both primaries are thought to be looming, the board of supervisors on the face of the official returns of last Tuesday's election, many of which were completed at noon yesterday, will certify that B. W. McKee of Kingsburg won the Republican nomination for assemblyman in the 54th district, while C. A. Foster of Fresno received the Democratic endorsement.

The certification will be based on the following tabulation of the votes on what has developed as one of the closest assembly contests in the history of Fresno county: For the Republican nomination: B. W. McKee, 500; C. A. Foster, 444. For the Democratic nomination: C. A. Foster, 250; W. D. Grady, 246; a majority for Foster of 23 votes.

Grady, an attorney of Coalinga, who entered all the party primaries which were permitted on the official returns, won the Socialist nomination from Christiansburg by a vote of 39 to 13, but under the law he cannot accept this endorsement, inasmuch as he is a registered Democrat and failed of receiving the vote of his party.

Because of errors found in three or four precincts in the district, with special reference to the grouping of the vote of the assembly candidates under the Republican column and the omission of the vote of the vote for both nominees, it was reported around the courthouse that Grady might contest the Democratic fight with Foster, and the latter would demand a recount of the Republican vote.

The task of tabulating the returns had not been completed up to last night, the work being halted at the very beginning of the official count, which was not completed and to be certified are given below:

For United States senator: Kent, 1,935; Shortridge, 1,213; Wallace, 2,771; a plurality for the latter by 823.

For representative in congress: Harboun, 5,035.

For assembly in 52nd district: S. H. Heflinger, 1,605.

For United States senator: James D. Rhylan, 2,824.

For representative in congress: Harboun, 1,904; Harrie, 1,322; a majority for Harboun of 582.

For assembly: 50th district, Butte, 811; Moffatt, 658; a majority for Butte of 153.

B. S. Beals and Harry M. McKee won the Socialist nominations for senate and congress respectively, without opposition. Republican candidates for senate received a total of 16 votes in the Democratic primary, while 21 Republican voters wrote in the names of the Democratic assembly candidates in the south district.

Total Levy Will Be $2 Outside Incorporated Cities and $1.60 Inside, Plus Library Special Tax of 6 Cents

After wrestling with the vexatious problem through several sessions, the board of supervisors today adopted another $100,000 off the county budget, estimated making a total of $300,000, and fixed the tax rate for the fiscal year 1920-21 at $1.60 within the limits of incorporated cities and $2.00 outside.

The new rate represents a reduction of 16 cents on that of the past year. The enforcement, so far as the rate is concerned, goes into every department of government and industry, where the great increase in the cost of supplies and the recent wage raises given teachers necessitated a virtual doubling of the educational funds.

As finally passed, with all provisions of the law, the board of supervisors with the sole exception of an appropriation for a few thousands for work at the fair grounds, the budget calls for approximately $1,500,449 in general purposes and $1,125,000 for schools, the latter item having been cut $75,000 the last moment.

The tentative school rate originally fixed was 50 cents for the elementary schools and 75 cents for the high schools, an increase of 14 cents for the former and 10 cents for the latter over the previous year. The officially adopted rate was 45 cents for the elementary and 25 cents for the high schools, which would mean a 10-cent increase over the previous year.

The make-up of the rate and its comparison with the same items for the fiscal year 1919-20 follows:

Baker of the district attorney's staff have approved the plan and the necessary ordinances will be submitted to the board and the supervisors on or about September 26.
